Who we are

Our dedicated team has specialist expertise in the field, accumulated over more than 40 years of combined directly relevant experience (and over 15 as a team), including successfully managing institutional public and private debt funds together for 10 years. CCP members are deeply active and involved in the space, thanks to a wide array of contacts developed over the years. We help clients across the board on a variety of non-mainstream and often complex transactions.

Our work ethos

Institutional investors, such as pension funds, insurers, charities, as well as family offices, are at different stages of development in the asset class and require various levels of support. CCP, as a specialised, cost-effective and independent adviser, fully focused on customer service, is ideally positioned to make investors benefit from its entire availability, loyalty, and unbiased advice. Through tailor-made solutions and regular insights, we continuously help our clients manage their exposure across cycles on a pro-active and forward-looking basis.

Where we can help

In order to capture yield in the current environment, investors need to make strategic investment decisions with a fully educated approach. Global alternative lending markets may be attractive investment opportunities from that perspective, but also present potential pitfalls in terms of risk reward, capital preservation, ESG, sustainability and structural nuances, that CCP can efficiently help tackle.

Leveraging our deep alternative lending market expertise and our established industry network, CCP covers a distinct range of investment advisory support services.

Fund and asset selection

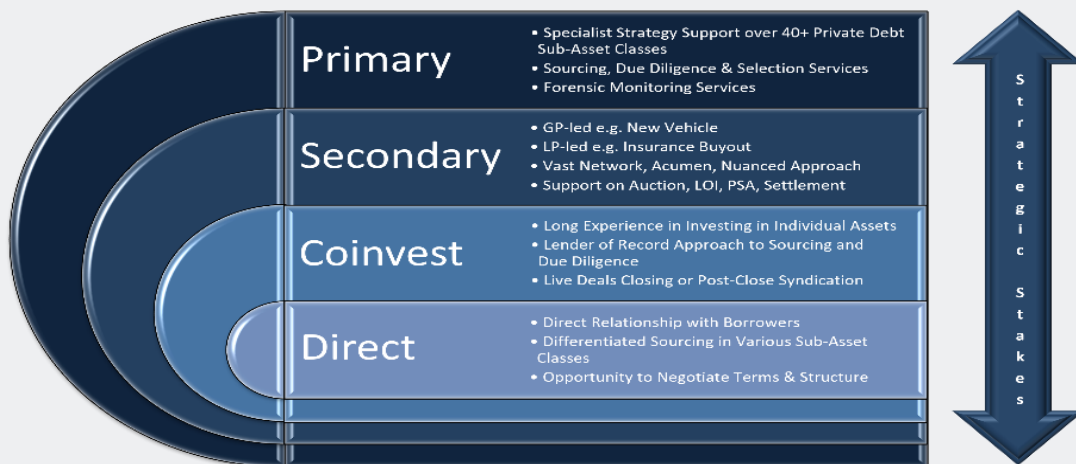

Extensive manager assessment including history, profile and track record (including on ESG and stewardship), coupled with thorough individual co-invest analysis encompassing fundamentals, risk/reward and structure. Proprietary approach supported by extensive due diligence. Unique transparency and insight from the other side of the fence, thanks to deep fund design and loan management experience, on all strategic, financial and structural features, including administrative and contractual terms and fees.

Strategy design

Private debt market full spectrum risk-return analysis to help design asset allocation strategies best suited to each specific investor requirements. Particular focus on risk issues such as false diversification, downside protection, and correlations with other existing exposures, as well as impact on capital requirements for investors subject to regulatory regimes such as Solvency II.

Secondary capital reallocation

CCP facilitates capital reallocation by providing transaction support to institutional investors looking to exit illiquid positions for technical or strategic reasons. We provide capital reallocation introduction services in close integration with LPs, legal counsels and managers, and accompany our investors closely along the initial phases of the process. Due to the illiquid nature of the market, our acumen, vast network of longstanding relationships, and nuanced and confidential approach, are essential to undertake such transactions efficiently and successfully.

Business financing support

Benefiting from our vast and diversified network of institutional counterparties built over the years that include private debt fund managers, sophisticated institutional investors directly lending capital, and public/supranational lending entities, CCP has increasingly been solicited by either SME or project teams (real estate/ renewables) to become their trusted partner in searching for tailor-made capital solutions to address their multiple and specific financial needs, along their development trajectory.

Specialist implementation capabilities

Bespoke specialist support services to senior management, investment staff/committee, GPs and trustees: teach-ins (e.g. alternative lending asset class intro, manager business model/strategy analysis, valuation techniques), alternative lending platform setup advice, particularly targeted at sophisticated investors opting to dis-intermediate and/or gain a foothold in the asset class, and exposure adjustment ancillary services, among others.
